Objectives and Investment Policy

Franklin U.S. Government Fund (the "Fund") aims to earn income over the medium to long term.

The Fund pursues an actively managed investment strategy and invests mainly in:

- debt securities issued or guaranteed by the U.S. government and its agencies and related entities (up to 100% of the Fund's assets), especially Ginnie Mae (GNMA) mortgage-backed securities and asset-backed securities

The Fund can invest to a lesser extent in:

- derivatives for interest rate hedging and efficient portfolio management

In addition, the Fund may also purchase or sell mortgage-backed securities on a delayed delivery or forward commitment basis through the "to-be-announced" (TBA) market (limited to 20% of the Fund's net assets). The investment team takes advantage of research to find opportunities in the GNMA markets, while carefully managing risks.

The Fund may distribute income gross of expenses. Whilst this might allow more income to be distributed, it may also have the effect of reducing capital.

The benchmark of the Fund is the Bloomberg US Government - Intermediate Index. The benchmark is used solely as a reference for Investors to compare against the Fund's performance, and the benchmark is neither used as a constraint on how the Fund's portfolio is to be constructed nor set as a target for the Fund's performance to beat. The Fund can deviate from the benchmark.

You may request the sale of your shares on any Dealing Day (as defined in the current prospectus of the Fund).

For the distribution share class shown in this document, dividend income is distributed to shareholders.

Risk and Reward Profile

What does this indicator mean and what are its limits?

This indicator is designed to provide you with a measure of the price movement of this share class based on historical behavior.

Historical data may not be a reliable indication of the future risk profile of the Fund. The category shown is not guaranteed to remain unchanged and may shift over time.

The lowest category does not mean risk free.

Why is the Fund in this specific category?

The Fund invests mainly in debt securities issued or guaranteed by the U.S. government and its agencies. Such securities have historically proven to present some stability over time and have benefitted from a limited exposure to interest rates or movements in the bond market. As a result, the performance of the Fund can fluctuate moderately over time.

Risks materially relevant not adequately captured by the indicator:

Liquidity risk: the risk that arises when adverse market conditions affect the ability to sell assets when necessary. Such risk may be triggered by (but not limited to) unexpected events such as environmental disasters or pandemics. Reduced liquidity may have a negative impact on the price of the assets.

Securitisation risk: investment in securities which generate return from various underlying groups of assets such as mortgages, loans or other assets may bear a greater risk of loss due to possible default of some of the underlying assets.

For a full discussion of all the risks applicable to this Fund, please refer to the "Risk Considerations" section of the current prospectus of Franklin Templeton Investment Funds.
